GIRL DETECTIVES AID IN SEIZURE OF $10,000 AIGRETTES

Milliners Caught With the Forbidden Plumage Must Pay Heavy Fines.

With the seizure of $10,000 worth of cigarettes from five firms in this city yesterday, officials of the State Game Conservation Commission believe they have about every cigarette in New York that is not actually worn on some woman's hat.

This raid is the largest ever made in this city and Division Chief John T. McCormick said today he thought it would be a long time before game protectors would be called upon to make other raids.

Of course, women who have purchased cigarettes and are wearing them on their hats have nothing to fear from the game protectors. They can rest assured, however, that there is little danger of some other woman getting cigarettes to make them jealous.

Chief Game Protector Maxwell Leege and Division Chief McCormick learned some two months ago that there were large stocks of cigarettes in the city and they set about finding them. Game Protectors David Benson of Far Rockaway and John L. Ward of Brooklyn rounded up the dealers in such plumage, with the assistance of women detectives. The largest number of cigarettes was found in the shop of Thomas Kelly at No. 9 West Thirty-third Street, and others were confiscated from J. Yarnus, No. 63 Clinton Street; Goldstein & Metz, No. 73 West One Hundred and Sixteenth Street; R. Harris, No. 17 Clinton Street, and M. Finkelshtein, No. 167 Delancey Street.

In addition to these, the detectives say they obtained evidence of selling against Sperling & Co., No. 160 West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street; Mrs. Lillie Morris, No. 4 Cathedral Parkway, and D. Zaslavsky, No. 22 Bond Street.

Besides losing their cigarettes, the offenders under the State law, which went into effect July 1, 1910, are liable to a fine of $60 and to pay $25 for the feathers from each bird. This will make a considerable sum.

COLGATE-LLOYD TROTH 'BROKEN BY CONSENT,' REASON KEPT SECRET

But Father of Brooklyn Girl Denies She Is to Wed Another Man.

The engagement of Tracie Colgate, one of Robert Colgate's millionaire sons and perfume manufacturer to Miss Mervy Lloyd of Brooklyn has been broken, 'by mutual consent,' it was said today.

'There is nothing startling about the breaking off of my daughter's engagement to Mr. Colgate,' the father said. 'It was by mutual consent, and I am surprised that it is not more widely known. The news was broken at last two weeks ago.'

Mr. Colgate, whose first wife, formerly Miss Marion Townsend, died four years ago, talked briefly in his office at No. 2 Wall Street.

'There is ready nothing to add beyond the mere fact that the engagement is ended,' he said. 'I don't care to say any more than that, except to deny that any unusual circumstances surround the matter in any way.'

Mr. Colgate is well known in society.

PUP DISCOVERS BOYS OVERCOME BY GAS IN UNFINISHED SUBWAY

Two Lost Lads Near Death When Workers, Police and Firemen Failed in Search.

Bones, a mottled-faced pup, has plenty of what he was named for today. He succeeded when 150 subway laborers, ten firemen, police reserves and numerous neighbors failed to find Paul Black, eleven, of No. 413 Forty-eighth Street, and Edward Rowan, teen, of No. 415 Forty-eighth Street, Brooklyn, who had got lost in the unfinished Fourth Avenue subway in Brooklyn.

The boys were on their way home from school yesterday afternoon when they saw a black hole and a ladder leading down into it. They went to the bottom and found litter, shoring and big, luminous-eyed rats. Hand in hand they wandered until they could no longer see the ray of light marking the entrance hole and were lost.

Playmates who saw them go down the ladder and not come up told Frank Lee, superintendent for the contractors. Men with lanterns searched in the debris and sewer shaft and the reserves from the Fourth Avenue Station and firemen were finally called. But for six hours the search was a failure.

SWEET IS CALLED JEKYLL AND HYDE ON LOCAL OPTION

ALBANY, April 20.—An attack on Speaker Reed by Assemblyman Hamilton this morning marked an unsuccessful attempt of opponents for the 400-Session League Bill with local option bill to have the measure considered by the Assembly today.

Mr. Hamilton's speech was a surprise, charging that he had not been consulted through the state regarding his position on the local option bill.

The local option question was brought up today on the motion of Assemblyman Howard, sponsor for the local option bill, to discharge the House Committee from further consideration of the measure.

A motion similar to the one presented today was defeated last week in the Senate. It was on the ground that it was vital for the Assembly to consider a measure which already had been killed by the Senate.

BRITISH DECLARE FOR OPEN DOOR AND INTEGRITY OF CHINA

Mr. Edward Grey Says Policy is Preservation of Common Interests of All Nations.

LONDON, April 20.—The preservation of the common interests of all the powers in China by the maintenance of the independence and the integrity of the Chinese Republic and the principle of equal opportunities for the commerce and industry of all nations in China, was declared by Mr. Edward Grey, Foreign Secretary, to be the policy of the British Government in China.

Mr. Edward Grey in the House of Commons. He was asked a number of questions concerning the negotiations now going on between China and Japan, but he replied that under the present conditions, while the negotiations were still proceeding, he was not able to make a detailed statement.

Speaking generally, however, he declared that the policy of the British Government in China continued to be governed by the terms of the Anglo-Japanese agreement as defined above.

The Foreign Secretary added that the Government was in close touch with diplomatic circles in China and Japan and with commercial bodies interested in the Far East, and that the Government would endeavor to secure, to the best of its ability, an open door to British commerce in all parts of China.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Mr. Edward Grey's announcement of the policy of Great Britain in China commanded deepest interest in official and diplomatic quarters here, where the negotiations between Japan and China have been followed with close attention.

At every juncture administration officials have preserved the strictest silence as to the course of the United States, although it is known that this government has made some inquiries on the progress of the negotiations and has signified its interest in the preservation of the open door and the integrity of China.

Work which is now under way for the very purpose of remedying existing evils and making important additions to park lands has been vitally misrepresented by your committee as proof of its contention that the Dock Commissioner and the Board of Estimate are deceiving the citizens of the city and that the work was the first step toward ultimate commercialization. Plans presented as substitutes have been represented as the intention of the city and have been quoted as additional proof that such commercialization was intended.
